<sup>3</sup> Per Josephus, [these] "...of the family of [Levi-Aaron-Eleazar-] Phineas...lived privately during the time that the high priesthood was transferred to the house of Ithamar;" refer to Appendix 3B, II, sub-part II, A.

<sup>4</sup> Note that Nehemiah and 1 Chronicles both place Meraioth later, after Ahitub; refer to fns. 3 and 6.

<sup>5</sup> This is the only one use of the form Heli until given as the name of the apparent father of Miriam/Mary [A], mother of Jesus of the New Testament--refer to Appendix 4C, "Names/Places/Relationships," Heli/Eli.

<sup>6</sup> There are unresolvable questions on Eli generations both before and after Ahitub; refer to Appendix 3B, II, sub-part II, A (4), as well as Appendix 2A, Attachment 4, "Eli, Descendancy of."

<sup>9</sup> The editors of the within-referenced Josephus added Azariah to the 17 names of X.IX.6 to conform the total of names there (17) with AJ XX.X.1, where Josephus states "18" held office "from the days of Solomon, until Nebuchadnezzar...took Josadek."

<sup>10</sup> No parental data is available on Ezra (the timespan between Seraiah and Ezra would not allow him to be a direct son of Seraiah).
