The above seven simultaneously are referred to as "chiefs of sons Esau;" "chiefs/sons of Eliphaz in the land of Edom," and "sons of Adah."

¹ The name also of a son of Caleb, (o).

² Also referred to as "Hivite;" see Appendix 1F--Hittite, Hivite, Horite, and Seir.

³ For citations and other Elons, see Appendix 1D, II, fn. 37.

⁴ But also directly referred to as "son of Anah"--(i)(5).

⁵ This descendancy via Basemath for Reuel/Jethro, priest of Midian, is unconfirmable--no antecedents are given for him. "Reuel" offspring are reported such as to allow for a second Reuel, while unrecorded union(s) of (Keturah + Abraham -) Midian (Appendix 1A at fn. 33) and (Hagar + Abraham -) Ishmael descendants cannot be ruled out. See also Appendix 1F, Midian and Kenaz, etc.

⁶ Also referred to as "son of Eliphaz" and "sister" of Lotan; (eeee) Timna/Timnah.

⁷ See fn. 10.

⁸ There being also a (Canaanitess + Simeon -) Zerah/Zohar.

referred to as "sons of Basemath, wife Esau's;
in the same manner as with Eliphaz/Esau/Adah.

Other named Esau "chiefs"/ "princes of Edom" are Alvah, Jetheth, Oholibamah, Elah,¹⁰ Pinon, Mizbar, Magdiel, Iram.

⁹ A matriarchal tribal system appears to be reflected by the use of "sons," instead of "grandsons," both for Anah and Basemath (at left).

¹⁰ Also found: (Jephunneh -) Caleb - Elah - Kenaz; (t) Elah.
